- ❖ We wish to inform that we are not a travel agency. This train has been chartered purely out of love and respect for the devotees' convenience. Knowing that long road journeys can be exhausting, this arrangement has been made so you can travel safely and comfortably to listen to the Katha. This is a completely non-commercial initiative with no profit motive—it is an offering made entirely in the spirit of service (Seva) and mutual support.
- ❖ Expectations & Responsibility: Attendees are requested not to view this as a commercial or luxury service. While every effort will be made to ensure a pleasant journey, the organizers will not be responsible for any unforeseen inconveniences during the trip.

If a passenger allows another person to travel on a ticket issued in their name or attempts to transfer their berth to someone else, the ticket will be cancelled immediately. Furthermore, penalties and legal action may be initiated against all individuals involved, as per railway regulations. For security reasons and compliance with the law, please strictly refrain from this practice under all circumstances.
- ❖ During the journey, attendees must keep all their luggage on the train. Please carry only a small shoulder bag containing essential daily-use items such as necessary clothes, a charger, money, a purse, and other essential belongings.
- ❖ There is no facility for washing clothes during the journey. We therefore recommend carrying a sufficiently large suitcase or travel bag with enough clothing for the entire journey to be kept in the train.
